MERRY CHRISTMAS

This is the joyous, happy and jolly season. It is hard for anyone to stay aloof from all the activities that make up Christmas and the holiday season in general. Very few seem unaffected by it all.

Even the hectic rush at the end is part of it. We complain but don't really mean it.

"Tis the season to be jolly." But we couldn't resist using the picture of Jeffrey and Scott Lamson on Santa's lap which appears on the front page in this issue.

For sure the youngsters don't seem to be too jolly in the picture. But we are sure they are going to be two happy kids on Christmas day.

We borrowed the picture from the Bill Means', the proud grandparents of the boys. We thought you would like it as much as we did.

RETIREMENT advantages were sort of touched on by us in last week's column when we paid tribute to Bill Henley who is retiring as school superintendent after 21 years in that office.

We admitted that we were slightly envious of Bill who, on the surface, at least, appears pretty much unscathed from the rigors of 30 years in the education field.

We also conceded that there were some people whom we knew who had retired but were not satisfied with their new routine.

However, we maintain that these few dissenters had not deterred us and we are more than willing to give this retiring bit a whirl whenever it is feasible. That time is still in the unforeseeable future, although there is only one thing keeping us from doing it right now.

Anyway we got a new slant on the whole retirement angle the other day when we were having our hair cut in the City Barber Shop.

JIM LA PLANTE, the former owner of the shop, was doing the honors.

Since his more or less forced retirement on doctor's orders, Jimmy comes in and cuts hair two days a week.

He has the rest of the week to play golf, garden or loaf.

Jim seems to have found the right equation. But, unfortunately, we can't barber, so it won't work for us.

MYRON FAIRCHILD was in the next chair. He joined with us in agreeing that Jimmy had found the right answer. But we both decided that our edu-

PLANNERS MEET

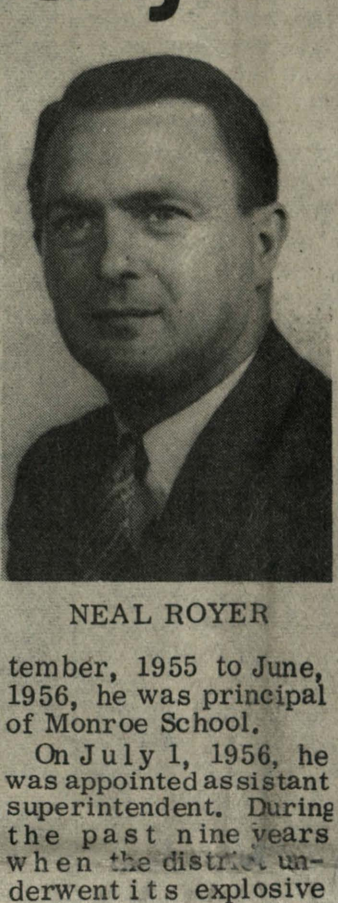
Seven "S" approval requests for plans ranging from a four-unit apartment to neon signs, and including an office, a church wing and commercial buildings were on the planning Commission agenda last night.

Other agenda items included the proposed zone-change hearing on Los Gatos Creek scheduled to be continued at the request of the Council.

Neal Royer moves up to superintendent on July 1

Neal Royer, 47, who began as a teacher in the Campbell Union (elementary) School District in 1948 and has been assistant superintendent for nine years, will succeed William Henley as superintendent on July 1, 1965.

Henley is retiring on June 30, 1965 after serving as superintendent of the district for 21 years.



NEAL ROYER

Royer's appointment was made by an unanimous vote of the board last Thursday. In Henley's letter of resignation, the retiring superintendent had strongly recommended the promotion of Royer.

Howard Guilbert, president of the school board, said that Royer will be given a four-year contract and an advance in salary of approximately $1080 over his present $19,000 plus annual pay, for the first year, which is equivalent to the third pay period for a superintendent in the district's salary schedule. Henley's annual salary is $24,000.

All of the new superintendent's teaching and administrative experience as an educator has been in the Campbell district. He has gone through "all the chairs".

TEACHER FIRST

He was employed first as a sixth grade teacher in the Moorpark School in September, 1948. A year later he was assigned as eighthgrade teacher at Campbell Grammar School and in September, 1950, was given the duties of vice-principal as well.

From September, 1952 through June, 1955, Royer served as principal of Rosemary School and from September, 1955 to June, 1956, he was principal of Monroe School.

On July 1, 1956, he was appointed assistant superintendent. During the past nine years when the district underwent its explosive

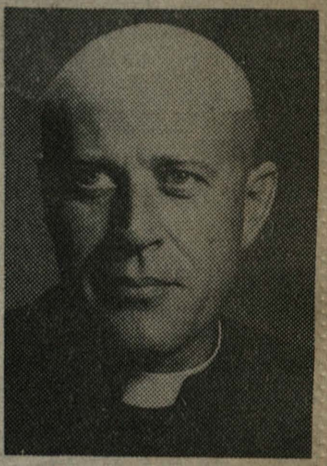
"'Tis the season to be JOLLY"

BUT Scott (left) and Jeffrey Lamson seem to have some question about the "JOLLY" bit as they sit on Santa's lap. The boys are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lamson and the grandsons of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. (Bill) Means of Campbell.

The story of Christmas lives on!

Traditionally The Campbell Press calls on a local clergyman for an appropriate message to appear in our Christmas issue.



REV. A. D. CARSON

We thought it particularly fitting this year that the Rev. Alfred D. Carson, vicar of St. Lawrence in Campbell, present the message.

St. Lawrence, the first and only Episcopal Church in Campbell, was only established here in September, 1963. It will celebrate the Christmas season this year for the first time in its own building at 65 W. Rincon.

From September, 1963 until August, 1964 Sunday services were held in the Country Woman's Club. Approximately 100 families make up the congregation.

The Rev. Carson, 42, came to St. Lawrence in May, 1964. He is a native of Virginia and served as a Lt. (j.g.) aboard a cruiser in World War II. From 1947 to 1961 he was with Liberty Mutual Insurance Co. with the last five years as district sales manager.

He attended Oberlin College, University of Santa Clara and San Francisco law schools and earned his Bachelor of Divinity degree at the Church Divinity School of the Pacific in Berkeley, 1961-64.

He was ordained to the Episcopal priesthood in June, 1963 and served as associate rector, St. Andrews, San Bruno for one year. He is married and the Carsons have a five-year old daughter.

CHRISTMAS MESSAGE

Giving thanks for Christ! This is the proper translation of the greeting, "Merry Christmas".

What does the greeting mean to you when you say it or hear it? In our use of language there is often a great deal of difference between what we say and what we mean. Within our non-Christian culture, this difference between saying and meaning becomes obvious when the secular culture attempts to "take over" a purely religious event.

So, to many, Christmas means jingle bells or colored lights or decorated trees or a fat man with a white beard.

But to the Christian, all of this is mere tinsel and fluff: the packaging that often hides the product.

To the Christian, Christmas is a time to remember, relive and respond to an event which began with a birth and ended on a cross... but did not quite end there.

To the Christian, Christmas marks the beginning, of an event in the history of man within which God, in the flesh, on two feet, confronted man and in that confrontation offered wholeness and life.

To the Christian, Christmas marks the beginning event of the fullness of God breaking through in man, His participation in the sorrow and pain and violence of this world and His emergence as victor and king.

This is the gift and greeting that the Christian offers to the world; not just a pretty package tied with a pretty bow but God's love in Christ which means fullness and life. It is thus that he overcame the world.

It is through Him that we may.

Who is coming to you at Christmas... and how: down the chimney or in the reality of life?

Merry Christmas; take it; the real one is yours for the asking.

Campbell High acclaims first millionaire among its alumni

Campbell High School is acclaiming its first alumnus to attain millionaire status.

PAUL J. MEYER

He is Paul J. Meyer, now president of Success Motivation Institute, Inc., of Waco, Texas, who entered Campbell High School in 1942 and graduated in 1946.

Subject of a personality sketch in the Sunday magazine section of a recent issue of the Dallas, Texas, Times Herald, Meyer is described in superlatives as the California native who as a boy in the Santa Clara Valley became the world's champion prune picker, and proceeded from there to become a millionaire when he was 27 years old.

A wise choice

To fill the shoes of retiring Campbell school superintendent, Bill Henley, who is retiring after serving the local district for 21 years, the board of trustees have named Neal Royer, who has been assistant superintendent for the past nine years.

The board members made an excellent choice.

We commend them not only for picking a highly qualified man to succeed Henley but for doing it in a business like fashion in ample time so that the transition will be a smooth one when the change officially takes place on July 1.

The board members, in our opinion, showed by their actions that their main thought was for the welfare of the district and any delay in this important matter would serve no useful purpose.

After Bill Henley's resignation was reluctantly accepted, there was nothing to be gained by deferring the appointment of his successor, especially when there was an administrator of the proven capabilities of Neal Royer waiting in the wings.

The district is indeed fortunate to have a "Number 2" man ready to take over.

We think it shows the esteem in which Royer is held that there was a unanimity of opinion by board members in that he was the logical choice for the superintendency.

But board members were not alone in this opinion.

The principals, teachers, and district employees in general felt that the choice was a wise one.

And even the common garden variety of citizens, with or without kids in school, echo their feelings.

But we think the highest accolade of all was the one paid Neal in Bill Henley's letter of resignation.

Bill wrote: "Neal Royer, Assistant Superintendent, has been the Superintendent's strong, right hand for the past nine years...

..."Neal Royer, I recommend to you for your most earnest consideration as an administrator of the highest quality. He is an excellent organizer, a man of vision, and good delegator of education functions. I have been most happy to have Neal as my top staff member"...

It is rare indeed for a person who is retiring to pay such a high compliment to an assistant or to recommend so directly that his assistant should be appointed to the position.

Yet, we feel, that no one would be in a better position than Henley to know if his "right hand" was capable of taking charge.

We, too, are convinced that Neal had demonstrated that he can handle the responsible job as superintendent and the choice not only was a wise one but most logical.

And as we congratulate Neal on his appointment we reiterate our commendation of the board members who acted so efficiently and logically in this case.

Christmas Day

Silent Night
Holy Night...

Rickey McLafferty, 13, a seventh-grader at Castro Junior High of the Moreland District, penned the following poem about Christmas which his teachers think enough of to be included in the school's yearbook.

Rickey is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Egan of 4586 Alex Drive, San Jose.

CHRISTMAS DAY

On the day before Christmas
The snow comes down like rain,
All you can see is white snow through the window pane,
The schools are not open, the houses have
Light and all is quiet on Christmas night.
The presents all under the tree,
Just waiting for someone to see,
On December 25 someone would say,
This has been a happy Christmas Day.

Avenue in Campbell, while justifiably proud of the recognition which has come to her son, is inclined to discount the emphasis upon his wealth, if not actually to regard it in bad taste, and prefers to emphasize his other accomplishments, which are many.

SET RECORDS

Setting records appears to have been a habit with him. His first was as a young high school boy, when he got up at 2 o'clock one summer morning, proceeded to an orchard about where the Camden School now stands, there to pick 101 50-pound boxes of prunes--the last by flashlight--to set a world's prune picking record which probably still stands.

His next record was for physical fitness as a paratrooper at Fort Benning, in Columbus, Georgia, shortly after his graduation from Campbell High School. Here he won national attention when he shattered all existing records in the army's rugged physical fitness tests, scoring 450 out of a possible 500.

He married a southern girl while in the service, returned to San Jose to attend San Jose State College briefly, but left "determined to become a master salesman". This he soon did in the insurance field in Georgia and in Florida, his wife's home state, where he set insurance production records which still stand.

Meyer next brought his master salesmanship talents to hear in the Florida territory for the Words Record Company in Waco, Texas, which produced and sold religious recordings. Here his earnings mounted to $100,000 a year, and he was soon part owner of the company.

Organization of his own company--Success Motivation Institute, Inc.--followed four years ago, again with spectacular success. As its name indicates, the company's function, in Meyer's words, is to "motivate people toward success". Courses of instruction designed to "help people help themselves" are produced in the form of recordings and sold all over the world in many different languages. Presently the company has some 200 distributers at strategic points all over the world.

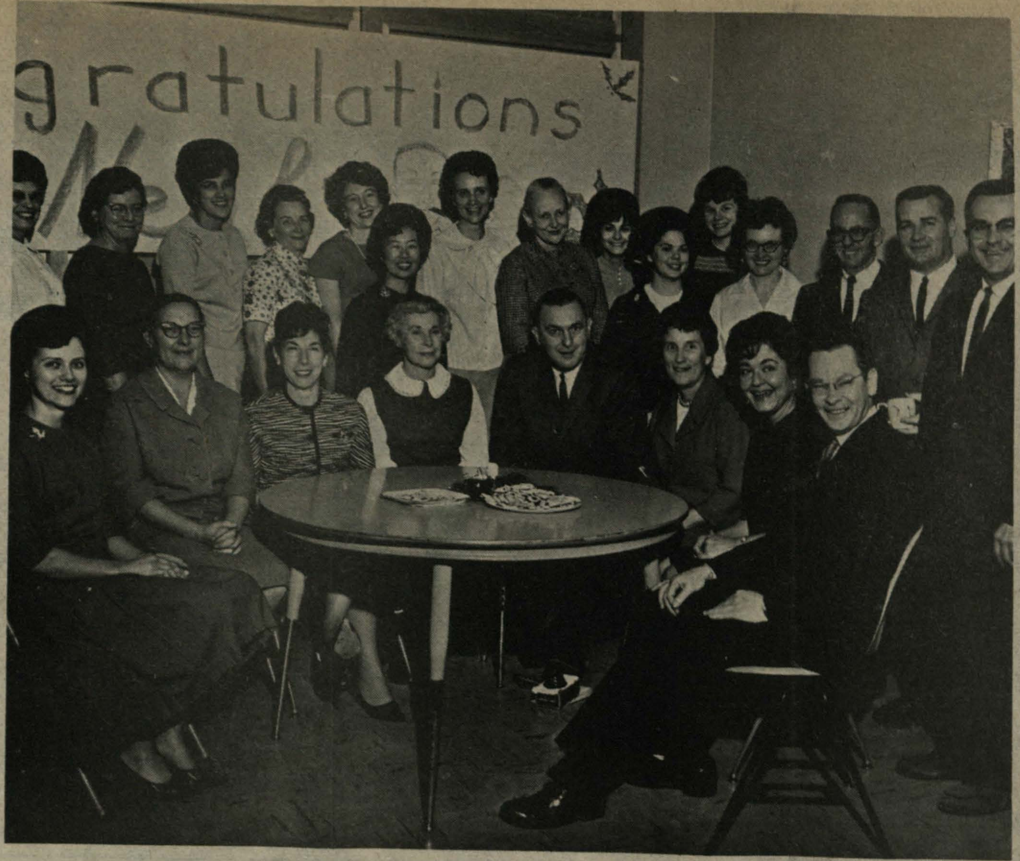
HONORED

Meyer was recently honored by the Houston Sales Association of Houston, Texas, when he received the association's national "Sales Leadership" award for outstanding contributions to the sales industry. As recipient of this award he joined such notable salesmen as Art Linkletter, Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges and others.

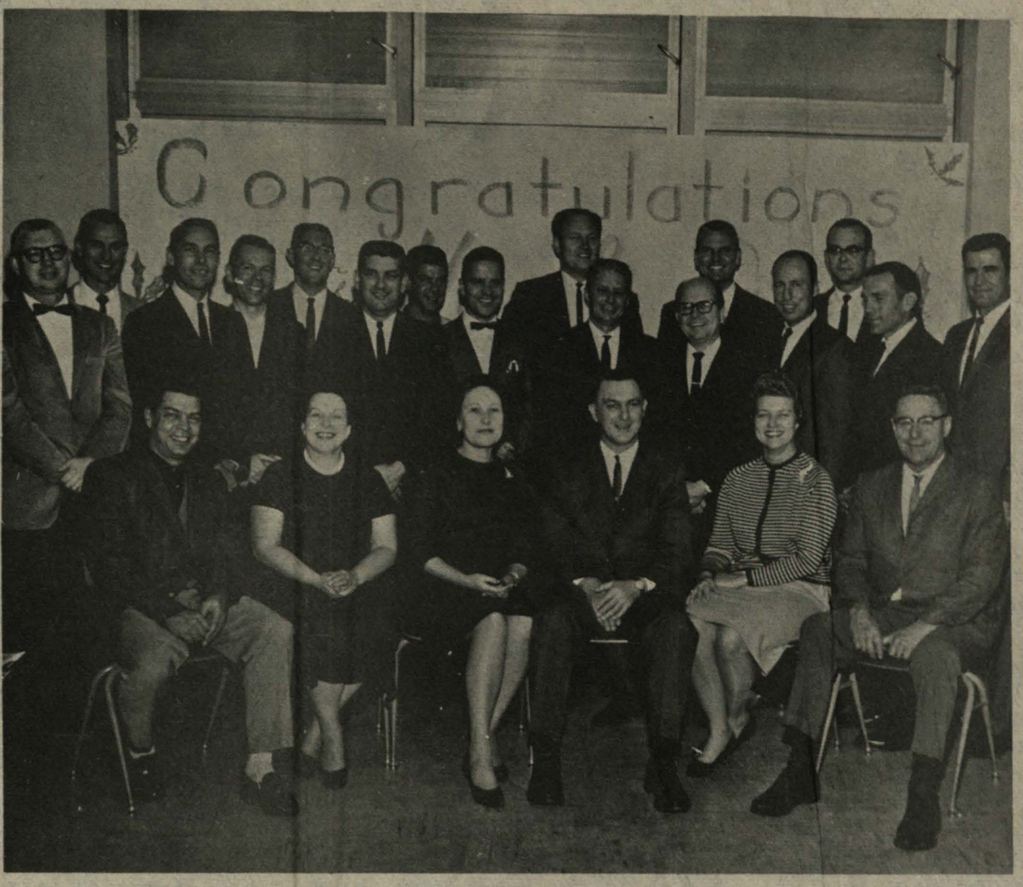
Meyer's mother notes with pride his activity in church work in Waco, where he serves as deacon of the Lakesbore Baptist Church which he and his wife and their three sons attend.

In Campbell many recall Paul Meyer and his older brother, Karl, for their activity in the Boy Scouts of America. Both became Eagle Scouts, and Paul went on to become senior patrol leader, assistant scoutmaster and scoutmaster. The older brother is now a successful Los Angeles manufacturer. A sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Caravelli, now resides at Campbell. Their father, cabinet maker and locksmith, died a year ago.

At her Campbell home, the mother is preparing to welcome for the Christmas holidays her two sons and her daughter and their families--the first time in 14 years all have been together.



HAPPY FOR NEAL--Workers in the Campbell Union School District office and members of the instruction department gather around their assistant superintendent, Neal Royer, for a "family photo". They are celebrating the appointment of Royer as superintendent effective July 1. He will succeed retiring superintendent, William C. Henley.



PRINCIPALS GATHER--Principals and vice principals of Campbell Union School District assembled to express their delight in the appointment of Assistant Superintendent Neal Royer to succeed Superintendent William C. Henley who will retire on July 1 after serving the district for 21 years. Sign behind them reads "Congratulations to our new boss Neal Royer."

growth, the position of assistant superintendent became increasingly important.

He was responsible to the superintendent for the operation of the schools by the principals which includes budget control for each of the 19 schools has its own budget.

One of his major responsibilities has been the recruiting, hiring and in-service training of personnel. The local school district has developed an outstanding recruiting program under Royer's guidance that there are more applicants than jobs almost every year, an unusual situation in California's education picture.

EDUCATION

Royer attended Jacksonville State Teachers College in his native Alabama and received his A. B. in education from San Jose State and his M.A. in school administration from Stanford.

He spent five years in the Army during World War II, entering as a private and coming out as a captain. He has continued to be active in the National Guard and is presently a Lt. Col. and battalion commander.

He married the former Dixie Shaffer of Merced in November, 1945 and they have three sons, Al, 17, a senior at Campbell High; Jim, 12, a seventh grader at Campbell Elementary and Bob, a five-year old attending kindergarten at Rosemary.

Recently the Royers moved from the home at 481 Carlyn which they had occupied since 1950 to a new home at 3444 Merrimac Ave.

Royer has been active in community affairs. He has been an active member of the Campbell Rotary Club for 10 years and is a past president of that organization.

He also has served as Chairman of the Old Settlers Day celebration and has been chairman of both United Fund and Red Cross drives. Both he and Mrs. Royer have long been active in the First Methodist Church of Campbell.

Royer also, with the rank of assistant professor, has conducted an evening lecture class in introduction to education at San Jose State.

Police file check charges

Campbell Police department this week issued a warrant for the arrest of Iva Terrell Manning, 32, alias Dave A. Morrison, on charges of allegedly forging $1000 in ficticious checks written on two Campbell banks.

Manning was located in Phoenix, Arizona and extradition procedures are underway. According to Sgt. Dean Godbehere, Manning was employed here as a salesman for Ad-on Construction Co., 140 Harrison Avenue, for three weeks. Godbehere indicated that this was the largest amount of ficticious checks ever written by one individual in the Campbell area.

IN HIS YOUNGER days, Jim LaPlante played organized baseball as well as barbering. He didn't make the majors but was in the top minor leagues.

We had a good time recalling the good old days of minor league ball. The picture has changed radically in the last decade or so.

When we were growing up we followed the coast league almost as vividly as we did the majors. That was long before the O'Malleys and the Stonemans decided that California "needed" major league ball.

The major league teams seemed so far away in the "good old days".

And they were.

But that is not the only thing that has changed during the past years. Boy, you know it.

THIS IS THE TIME of year a lot of us think of the "good old days".

There is no question that each Christmas season sort of brings out memories of past Christmases, the happy ones as well as the ones not so happy.

We enjoy recalling the past at Christmas time although with the New Year always breathing down our neck, we also are forced to think a lot about the immediate future.

Say, 1965, for example in this instance.

But lately because we have been so far off in attempting to anticipate what the next 12 months will bring, we find it much safer to stick to recalling rather than anticipating.

-0-

SPEAKING of recalling, a few weeks ago in this column we reported some items that we had garnered from a March 1923 issue of The Press.

One of them concerned the awarding of the contract to build the Country Woman's clubhouse in Campbell. The story reported that C. F. Keesling of San Jose was to be the builder.

Our neighbor from across the street on Ridgeley, Joe S. Keesling informed us that the contractor for the job was his dad.

So it goes.

Tempus fugit.

But at Christmastime these little tidbits from the past seem to mean more than at any other time of the year.

So--MERRY CHRISTMAS again from all of us to all of you.

West Valley Post #158 of the American Legion and the Legion Auxiliary held their annual Christmas party at the Legion Hall on Dell Ave., Campbell, Saturday night December 19th and were hosts to their own children and to the children of Ming Quong Home in Los Gatos.

A Christmas program was enjoyed with Lee Spencer at the organ. Santa Claus presented the children with gifts and candy and the children of Ming Quong Home also received a Christmas card with a dollar enclosed.

Jail Chaplaincy program needs funds to continue

One of the most needed and yet thankless jobs in the county is that of Chaplain for the County Correctional institutions, which includes the Santa Clara County Jails. Rev. Bill Pate, former pastor of the First Baptist Church of Campbell, has held that position on a full time basis since July 15, 1963.

One half of the funds for this project have been provided by the County, and the other half have been promised by the Santa Clara County Council of Churches. Up to now, this has been a hand to mouth existence, and due to the fact that the contributions from churches have not come in as expected, the churches have failed to match the County funds by nearly $2,000 this year. As a result, Rev. Pate himself, has suffered financially, while giving to those in need of spiritual counseling.

He now would like to expand his services to the Juvenile Department as their is no regular organized Christian ministry to these misguided and mixed up young citizens of our county.

Santa Clara County is one of very few counties in California who have faced up to the need and recognized the great rehabilitation value of spiritual counseling. Included in the chaplain's yearly report are the following statements:

"We conduct four scheduled Protestant services each Sunday. Week day services at the Main Unit and at Elmwood Farm. There is group counselling at the Women's Jail. Interviews and individual counseling with men and women (8 to 5 daily). There are many opportunities to counsel with families of inmates. The Chaplain has many calls to families, pastors and employers. Have traveled 11,000 miles in performing the duties of the chaplaincy. Have presented the work to 53 churches of the County."

Chaplain Pate has now been authorized to spend 2 hours a week at Juvenile Hall. This is only a token effort to show interest in this great need and he hopes to do a great deal more in the near future. Pastors with counseling training and experience are asked to volunteer their services to help with this work. Information can be obtained from Rev. Pate at the Sheriff's Office, 180 Hedding St., San Jose. In the meantime the Correctional Institute Chaplaincy Board urges all Protestant churches to contribute to this very worthwhile project. Send checks to Joseph Malone, Treas., 98 Gordon Ave., San Jose. "When I was in jail he visited me."

The Greenleafs entertain at beatnik party

A group of local artists, all students of Henry J. O'Connor's advanced oil painting class in the Campbell Adult Education department, gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Greenleaf, 1035 West Parr Avenue for a beatnik party.

The guests dressed in appropriate beatnik garb and enjoyed a pot-luck supper including delicious Japanese and Italian dishes. Later in the evening a number of fun games were played including the "Klondike Ice Race".

Among those present were the Messers and Mesdames Henry J. O'Connor, Dale Bowman, Charles Carothers, Keith Carr, Ernie Chun, Fred Dieken, Albert Faris, Hans Haug, Irene Leach, Lee Marsh, Ray Newhouse, Clyde Ritchie, and John Runcie.

El Solyo children sing carols

Following a tradition started six years ago, a group of children residing in the El Solyo Avenue neighborhood, sang Christmas Carols for residents in the area Saturday nigbt. The group called the El Solyo Singers, were first trained by Mrs. Charlie Cole, and could only sing Jingle Bells and a few simple tunes. Now that they are older they have added the more advanced carols to their repetory.

The group was under the direction of Mrs. Glenise Kirk this year. They were also proud to add the accompaniment of Jeffrey and Steven Hodos on their horns this year. After the caroling Mr. and Mrs. A. Hodos entertained the group at their home.

The singers included Carol Pratt, John Malachesti, Kenny Schilling, John Schilling, Merrie Wieland, Heidi Wieland, Marie Hurley, Judy Herandez, Michael Hernandez, Dawna Marshall, Darlene Marshall, Steven Hodos, Jeffrey Hodos, Alberta Camin, Sarah Ann Cole, Leslie Nakamura, Danny Nakamura, Collette Kirk, Mark Kirk, Nessa Kirk, Mitchell Kirk, Michelle Kirk, Jimmy Hurley, John Manfre, Kathryn Manfre, and Shelley Cole.

AT IT AGAIN - West Valley Light Opera Company, which just finished its successful run of "The Unsinkable Molly Brown" is preparing for its next production, "Stop The World, I Want To Get Off." Returning to serve as musical director is Richard Gordon of Campbell (left) and Ruth Craig (right) costume designer. New to the WVLO staff are Evelyn Fish and Al Conn (standing) both of Campbell. Miss Fish will be assistant to the director and Conn will design the settings. "Stop the World" will open Feb. 12 in the West Valley College auditorium.

ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser

When Congress convenes on January 4, the first bill I shall introduce will be an authorization of the Pacheco Tunnel to bring water from San Luis Dam through a 10. 8 mile tunnel under Pacheco Pass. From our local point of view, this will be the most important bill of my career and will culminate more than a decade of groundwork and preparation.

In 1953 an organization known as the "Tri-County Water District" was spearheaded by former Congressman Jack Z. Anderson for the purpose of determining the best method of importing water to Central Coast Counties. After several years of wrangling over relative merits of the State-sponsored South Bay Aqueduct Plan and a Federal Pacheco Tunnel. Local interests decided to support both projects. In the meantime, Tri-County officials had been attempting to secure a Federal feasibility study of the proposed Pacheco Tunnel. This study, we knew, was a condition which had to be met before we could ever hope to have a Federal project authorized in law. But the appropriate committees of Congress were reluctant to spend Federal funds to study a local project which local people were not agreed upon.

Finally, Ed Hanna, of San Benito County and a Tri-County director, suggested a bill which directed the Bureau of Reclamation to conduct the feasibility study which it was reluctant to undertake. Accordingly, in 1958 I introduced House Concurrent Resolution 585. My good friend, the late Senator Engle, then Chairman of the House Interior Committee, gave his enthusiastic support and the bill was signed into law by President Eisenhower.

The next step came in the following year with consideration of a bill to authorize the the San Luis Dam. I appeared before the Senate Committee and secured approval of an amendment to include the Pacheco Tunnel as part of the original construction. In the House, Chairman Wayne Aspinall (D-Colo.) of the Interior Committee refused to accept the Senate amendment and justifiably insisted that the engineering study should be completed before the Tunnel could be authorized. He did agree to accept an alternative amendment I wrote on the back of an envelope and which later turned out to be tremendously significant. My amendment required the Secretary of Interior to plan the San Luis project in a manner which would contemplate the addition of the Pacheco Tunnel at a later date.

When the engineering study, authorized by H. Con. Res. 585, was later completed and recommended construction of the tunnel, it became obvious that if a tunnel were to be built later, the inlet and the first 1. 8 miles of tunnel would have to be built before the dam was filled with water. So the language of my amendment, written on the back of an envelope, became authorization of actual construction of part of the tunnel. A contract has already been let in the amount of $4, 549,-520 and construction will soon be under way. So with the job partly done, it it reasonable to expect that Congress will not hesitate to pass the bill I shall introduce on January 4 to complete the job. Looking back over the past twelve years, those scribbled words on the back of that envelope were indeed important.

County Hospital receives award for housekeeping

As any housewife will tell you emphatically, being a top-notch housekeeper requires more than good intentions. And so it was no mean honor when Mrs. Eileen Davis, head of the Apple-Pie-Order Brigade at 600-bed Santa Clara County Hospital, was named "Executive Housekeeper of the Year" for the Bay Area last week.

Presenting the award was an organization that knows what it's talking about, the National Executive Housekeepers Association, Bay Area Chapter. A further indication of their regard for Mrs. Davis's talents was the fact she was the first ever named to receive the honor.

Association President Mrs. Gladys Rude, Executive Housekeeper of Peninsula Hospital Burlingame, accompanied by Mrs. Zella Stanley and Mrs. Dorothy Davis, who hold the same position at San Mateo County Hospital and Vallejo General Hospital respectively, made a special trip to the local institution last week to make the award and to pin a congratulatory corsage on Mrs. Davis.

There IS Room In The Inn

Nearly two-thousand years have passed since the heartless answer, "We have no room," was given by the Bethlehem innkeeper. This coarse refusal was to precede the greatest act of love in history --- God becoming Man. Let us hope that His love now transfuses the hearts of men in such a way that --- were the scene re-enacted --- the 20th century answer would be instantaneous: "Yes, please come in. We will make room in the inn."

SOCIAL SECURITY

Questions and Answers

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH, EDUCATION, AND WELFARE SOCIAL SECURITY ADMINISTRATION

By
Gladstone A. Boquist
Field Representative

Q. I am planning to file for my social security benefits next year but I worked for the railroad for 4 years in the 1940's. Will I receive credit under social security for this railroad work?

A. Yes. Your railroad earnings will be transferred to your social security account at the time you file your claim. They will be used as credit toward your insured status under social security.

Q. I am receiving social security checks as guardian for another person. He also has over $2,000 income each year from property which I manage as part of my guardianship responsibility. Recently, I read that a person is allowed only $1200 earnings per year if he is to receive all of his social security checks. Must I report the $2,000 income to the Social Security Administration at the end of the year?

A. No. This type of income is not reportable for social security purposes. There are also several other types of income that are not reportable, and these are discussed in Booklet No. 23, which may be obtained from your Social Security Office.

Q. I'm still working but my wife read an article in the paper saying you should get in touch with your social security office when you're 65, even though you continue to work. Is that right?

A. This is very good advice. Even though you continue to work you may still receive some benefits, depending on the amount of your yearly earnings. Your inquiry prior to complete retirement may mean money in your pocket. Why don't you come to our office to discuss this more fully? When you do, bring with you proof of your age, your social security card, and a record of your earnings for last year.

Q. I have been rated 100 percent disabled by the Veterans Administration. Will that qualify me for social security disability payments?

A. Not necessarily. The rules applied by the VA and social security differ somewhat. The finding by the VA does indicate that a prompt visit to your social security office is in order.

GRANGE BREAKFAST

Prescriptions may be paid as part of future health plans

California has been selected for a pioneering nationwide drive to bring third-party paid prescriptions to the public, according to an announcement made by Benjamin J. Kingwell, president of the California Pharmaceutical Association.

"Third-party payment for the medication needs of the public spell out many revolutionary changes in pharmaceutical services within the next two years," said Kingwell. "Nearly sixty percent of all prescriptions filled by California pharmacies will be paid for by third parties (insurance companies, trust funds, employer-employee benefit funds, etc.), in the near future," he reported.

Of the nearly seven billion dollars being spent in the United States by employers and employees on group plans to finance medical expenses and disability payments, one billion dollars is being spent in California. This figure establishes new highs in the growth of group health protection since World War II.

"Group health policies provided by insurance companies now cover more than 59 million employees and dependents.

"Prescription drugs are one of the very few major health expenses for which the employee benefit funds are presently not available," Kingwell said.

He said that a growing number of unions that are starting prepaid prescription drug plans for members and their dependents. Most are financed by employers' contributions.

"To meet the demands of the dozens of unions that are bargaining prescription benefits into new contracts this fall and winter, and to provide the adequate, qualified prescription services the American public desires, the California Pharmaceutical Association has had a non-profit service company formed, The California Pharmaceutical Services, Inc. This company is now in negotiations with various benefit funds, insurance companies, etc., that seek to provide their members and clients prescription coverage.

"California Pharmaceutical Services, Inc., has been established under the same statutes as California Physician Services; and it is anticipated that C. Ph. S. will be able to make available the bulk of the skills and services of all professional licentiates in pharmacy to the public," Kingwell said.

Happy New Year

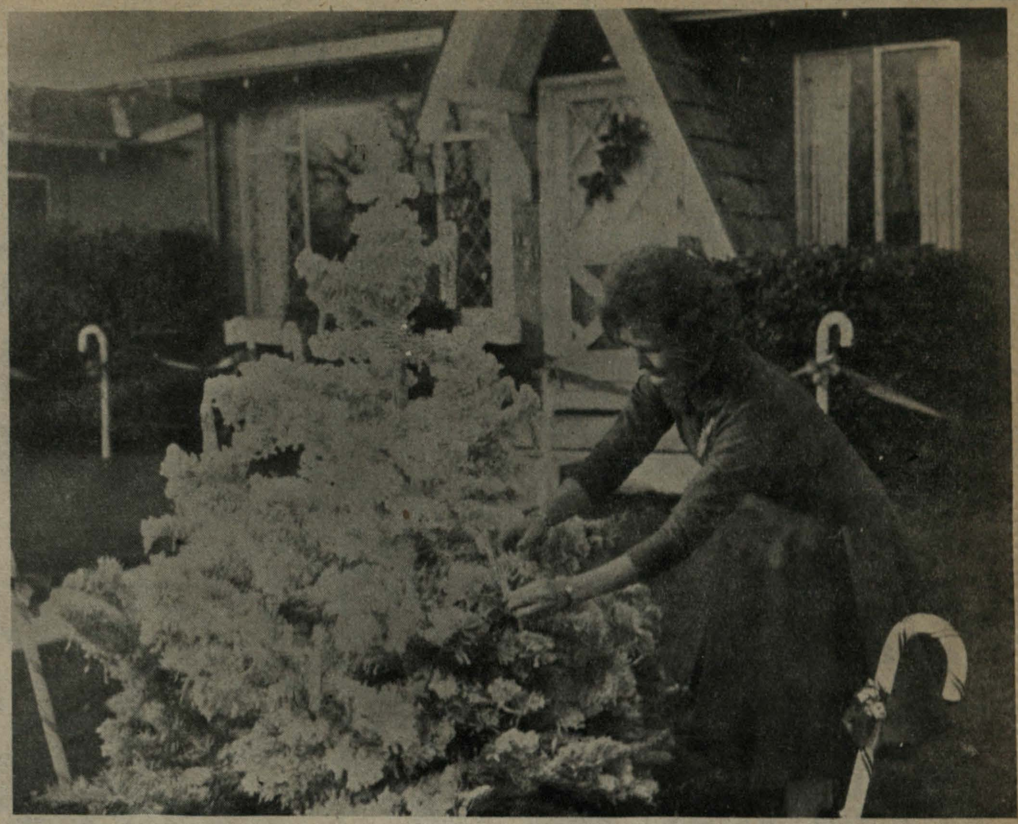
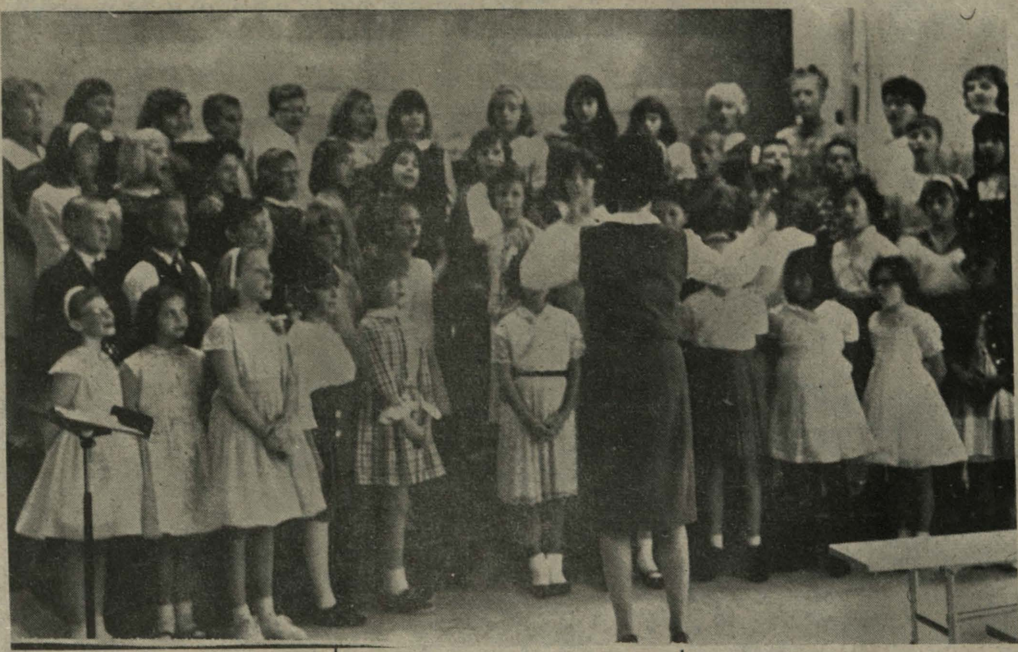
SANTA AT HAZELWOOD--Santa Claus paid his annual visits to the schools just before Christmas vacation began last week. Here Trudy Lockhart, first grader at Hazelwood, and Pamela Zumwalt, second-grader, pose for the cameraman before telling Santa what they want for Christmas.



POPULAR TREE--Mrs. Fran Riggar, of 151 Victor Ave., Campbell, replenishes the supply of candy canes on the Christmas tree in her front yard. For the past several weeks, Mrs. Riggar would get up early each school day and load the tree with a 100 or so candy canes. Then, the youngsters go by on their way to school, they do the "harvesting of the candy-bearing tree with the whole-hearted blessing of Mrs. Riggar, who estimates that she has put more than 1000 candy-canes on the tree this season.



CHRISTMAS SINGERS--Pictured is the choral group of Hazelwood School as they presented Christmas songs for the student body at the school on the annual Christmas program just before vacation began.

Merry Christmas, dear FIDO

For every child who finds a perky puppy under the Christmas tree—and there'll be more this year than ever before—dozens of youngsters will provide gifts for dogs they already own. Many owners, young and old alike, wouldn't think of letting Christmas pass without a present for the pets they love and are loved by in return. Sounds frivolous, but it needn't be. Some gifts for pets do fall into the luxury class, such as color shampoos, perfumes, nail polish or a sitting with a photographer. Most of us can't provide a mink coat for our dogs—as some have done—but there are many things we can give of real value. How about a secure collar? new identification tags? a visit to the veterinarian for a check-up? a separate bowl for his drinking water? training lessons? Remember, too, there are some things to avoid in buying your dog a present. Don't give him toys or bones that splinter or break . . . items with painted surfaces that he can chew off . . . over-sweet candies that throw him off his feed. You won't have trouble if you remember that the best Christmas gift for your dog is what's best for him.

College board okays summer session; discusses new site

The West Valley College Board of Trustees have authorized a six-weeks summer session for 1965, beginning June 28 and ending August 6.

The session was approved following a poll among students presently enrolled in English classes, with about 50 percent indicating a desire for a summer session. The poll questionaire indicated that the students wished a general selection of courses from each of the major divisions--English,=social science, science and business.

The Board moved a step closer to s start of negotiations to acquire a 125-acre campus site at Fruitvale and Allendale Avenues in Saratoga. When it was learned that preliminary approval of the site had been granted by the State Department of Education, board members asked that the matter of the Saratoga site acquisition be placed on the agenda of the next regular meeting January 7.

The Board took under advisement a proposal by the City of Saratoga, made orally to President Wallace W. Hall, pending the transmittal of a formal communication, that the twc parties--the college and the city--share the cost of a study of possible traffic problems that might arise from location of a campus on the Saratoga site.

Cost of the study was estimated at $2,000. While emphasizing their desire to cooperate with the City of Saratoga "in every way possible," several trustees recalled that the Board had had at its disposal an exhaustive study by county engineers.

Local merchants aid yule drive

West Valley College's first Christmas drive, sponsored by the Merchandising Club, has received good response from the community. In the true spirit of Christmas, the club has gathered usable toys, books, canned food, and clothing to distribute to needy families in the area.

A box to deposit items was placed at the main entrance to the College in front of the Auditorium. Local merchants have also made donations. Emil T. Perry, advisor to the club, reported that 24 stores and businesses had made contributions as of December 18. Christmas trees were also donated.

College to get new warehouse

A low bid by the Vanderson Construction Co., 1495 Industrial Ave., San Jose, to provide an approximate 1900-square-foot concrete foundation warehouse on the campus at West Valley College has been approved by the Board of Trustees. Total cost of the project, including advertising and architect's fees, will come to $7,828.

The college has been renting a store building in downtown Campbell, three blocks east of the campus, for $235 a month.

FICTION

LITTLE BIG MAN by Thomas Berger

This wonderfully entertaining adventure novel - the alleged memoirs of a man who, according to his editor, was "either the most neglected hero in the history of this country or a liar of insane proportions" - is destined to be hailed as one of the masterpieces of modern American fiction. Little big man purports to be the reminiscenses of a man who is one hundred and eleven years old.

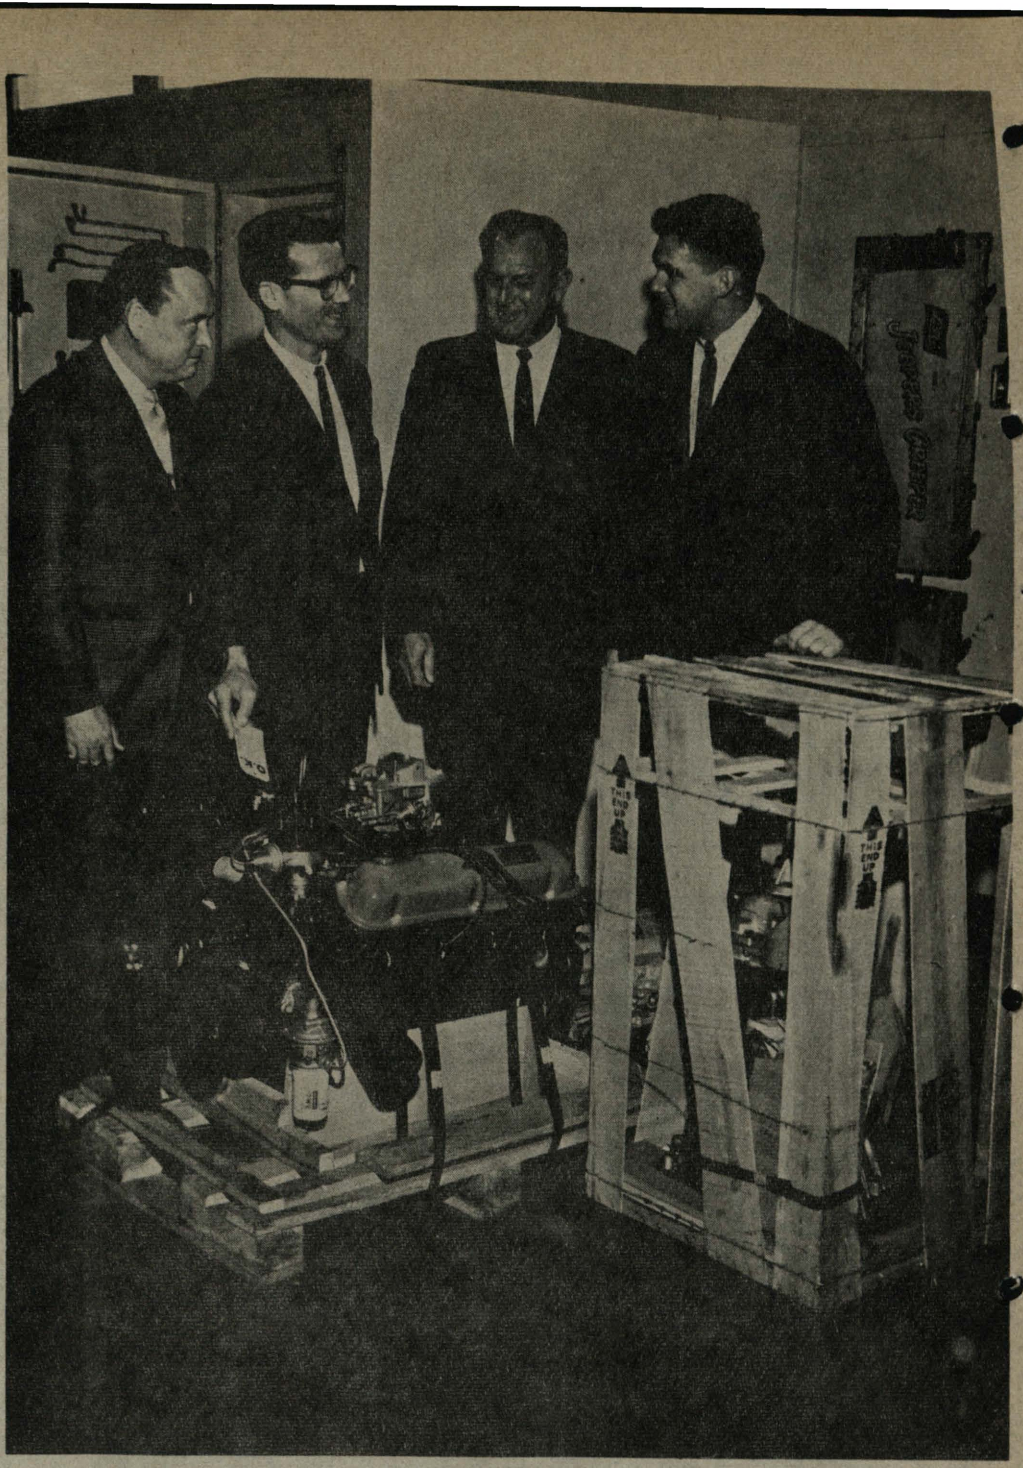
WHILE HE LIES SLEEPING by Giro, psued.

A pilot flying alone across Europe breaks his flight before the menace of bad weather. Before he is able to continue the journey, he spends two days in a small town near Marseilles with a family he has known slightly. This book is the story of those two days.

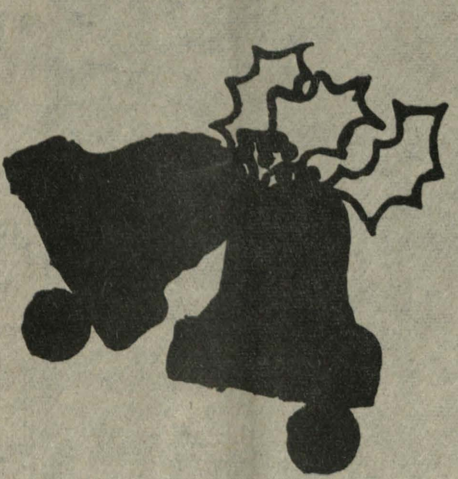
NON-FICTION

THE ZIEGFELD'S GIRL by Patricia Ziegfeld

The author of this sparkling book led a childhood which--by all that's puritan--should have left her a traumatized and spoiled wreck. The daughter of Florenz Ziegfeld, America's most flambouyant producer of the extravaganza, and the feathery Billie Burke, one of its most beloved actresses, shows what love and laughter can do to keep an American princess from growing up into useless royalty.



DONATION TO SCHOOL--Blackford High School and Ford Motor Company officers check over transmission (in crate) and engine given to the school by the Milpitas Ford plant and the area Ford dealers. From left, James Foster, of San Jose Ford; William Speidel, of the Ford Motor Co., Verdun Romer, Blackford principal and Lowell Like, shop teacher. Another engine and transmission were given to Leigh High School.



"I heard the bells on Christmas Day
Their old, familiar carols play,
And wild and sweet
the words repeat
Of Peace on earth, good-will to men!"

Demonstration of first aid proves valuable

A demonstration of mouth to mouth resuscitation by the Campbell Fire Department to a Sophomore Science class at Campbell High School was put to good use by one of the students last week.

Frances Sevison, 16, of 845 Jones Way, was taking care of her sister's children last Saturday afternoon. The youngsters, Debbie and Bobby Haskell, ages 3 and 2 respectively, were playing with inflated balloons while she prepared their lunch.

Frances heard one of the balloons burst and went into the living room to investigate. She observed her nephew's color had turned purple. She opened his mouth and saw the balloon in his throat and removed it. Then she gave Bobby mouth to mouth resuscitation as had been shown to her class by Fire Captain John Butterfield last Wednesday.

The little boy revived and began to breathe normally again. Frances told her mother about the incident when she came home from her work as a nurse at Campbell Community Hospital.

SHORT CHANGED!

Jean Decker, proprietor of Mr. Paris' Poodle Shop, 507 E. Campbell Avenue, reported to the Campbell Police that he was the victim of a fast shuffle short change artist on December 20. Decker told Police two men came into his establishment and purchased worm medicine. They gave him a ten dollar bill.

The medicine was 72 cents and Decker gave them $9.28 in change. One of the men took the $9,00, added a one dollar bill to it and asked for a ten dollar bill in return. The suspect then kept both the changed bills and the ten spot, Decker complained.

A Message of Great Joy

"...and suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host, praising God and saying, Glory to God in the highest... on earth Peace, Good Will toward Men..."

Let us rejoice, for once again Christmas brings us the guiding faith of Peace and Good Will to All, and the high inspiration of His holy message. To our many good friends, we send heartfelt greetings, with the wish that all may enjoy a most blessed Christmas, in the company of family and friends . . . singing the old familiar carols . . . hearing again the well-loved, spirit-lifting words of the Christmas story.
